A STATEMENT

OF THE

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, EXPENSES, &c.

IN

YALE COLLEGE.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class, are examined in Cicero's Select Orations, Virgil, Sallust, the Greek Testament, Dalzel's Collectanea Græca Minora, Adam's Latin Grammar, Goodrich's Greek Grammar, Latin Prosody, Writing Latin, Arithmetic, Murray's English Grammar, and Morse's, Worcester's, or Woodbridge's Geography. Jacobs's Greek Reader and the four gospels are admitted as a substitute for Græca Minora, and the Greek Testament.

A candidate for an advanced standing, whether from another college or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class he proposes to enter has attended. No one can be admitted into the Senior Class, after the close of the January vacation.

The stated time of examination for admission into College, is on the day preceding the public Commencement. But persons may be examined in any other part of the collegiate terms. It is requested that they may not be offered in the vacations, except for very special reasons.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class, till he has completed his fourteenth year: nor to an advanced standing without a proportional increase of age.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required; and those who are admitted from other colleges must produce certificates of dismission in good standing. The students are not considered as regular members of the College till after a residence of at least six months, they have been admitted to matriculation, on satisfactory evidence of an unblemished moral character. Before this they are only students on probation.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The Faculty to whom is committed the government and instruction of the students, consists of a President; a Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology; a Professor of the Hebrew, Greek, and Latin Languages; a Professor of Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy; a Professor of Divinity; a Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory; and eight Tutors.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. In each year there are three terms or sessions.

The three younger classes are divided, each into two or three parts; and each of the divisions is committed to the particular charge of a Tutor, who, with the assistance of the Professors, instructs it. The Senior Class is instructed by the President and Professors. Each of the four classes attends three recitations or lectures in a day; except on Wednesdays and Saturdays, when they have only two. The following scheme gives a general view of the authors recited each term:

FRESHMAN CLASS.

I.
- Folsom's Livy, from one half to two thirds.
- Adam's Roman Antiquities.
- Arithmetic reviewed.
- Day's Algebra begun.
- Græca Majora begun.

II.
- Folsom's Livy finished.
- Græca Majora, continued through the historical part.
- Day's Algebra finished.

III.
- Horace begun.
- Homer's Iliad; Robinson's.
- Playfair's Euclid, five books.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

I.
- Horace continued.
- Græca Majora: Orators, and Xenophon's Memorabilia.
- Euclid finished and reviewed.

II.
- Horace finished and reviewed.
- Græca Majora; Plato and Aristotle.
- Day's Mathematics: Plane Trigonometry, Nature and Use of Logarithms, Mensuration of Superficies and Solids, and Isoperimetry; Mensuration of Heights and Distances, and Navigation.

III.
- Græca Majora, Vol. 1. finished.
- Cicero de Officiis, de Senectute, and de Amicitia. Cicero de Oratore begun.
- Day's Mathematics: Surveying.
- Dutton's Conic Sections, and Spherical Geometry and Trigonometry.
- Jamieson's Rhetoric.

JUNIOR CLASS.

I.
- Cicero de Oratore, finished. Tacitus begun.
- Græca Majora, Vol. II. begun.
- Enfield's Philosophy, four books.

II.
- Tacitus: The History: Manners of the Germans; and Agricola.
- Græca Majora, Vol II. continued.
- Enfield's Philosophy finished and reviewed.

III.
- Enfield's Astronomy.
- Hedge's Logic.
- Tytler's History.
- Vince's Fluxions;
- Græca Majora Vol. II. continued; Hebrew, French, or Spanish. } At the option of the Student.

SENIOR CLASS.

I.
- Blair's Rhetoric.
- Paley's Moral Philosophy.
- Stewart's Philosophy of the Mind.
- Brown's do.
- Greek and Latin.

II.
- Paley's Natural Theology.
- Evidences of Christianity.
- Greek and Latin.

III. Say's Political Economy.

In addition to the recitations in the books here specified, the classes receive lectures and occasional instruction from the Professor of Languages; the Junior Class attends a course of experimental lectures on Natural Philosophy; and the Senior Class the courses on Chemistry, Mineralogy, Geology, and the principles of Natural Philosophy. The members of the several classes attend also the private exercises and lectures of the Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory. A course of Lectures on the oration of Demosthenes for the crown, is delivered to members of the Senior Class. Specimens of English composition are exhibited daily by one or more of each of the divisions of the Sophomore and Junior Classes. Written translations from Latin authors are presented by the Freshman Class. The lower classes are also instructed in Latin composition. The Senior and Junior classes have forensic Disputations once or twice a week, before their instructers. There are very frequent exercises in Declamation, before the Tutors, before the Professor of Oratory, and before the Faculty and students in the Chapel.

Gentlemen well qualified to teach the French and Spanish languages are engaged by the Faculty to give instruction in these branches to those students who desire it, at their own expense.

The object of the system of instruction to the undergraduates in the college, is not to give a partial education, consisting of a few branches only; nor, on the other hand, to give a superficial education, containing a little of almost every thing; nor to finish the details of either a professional or practical education; but to commence a thorough course, and to carry it as far, as the time of the students' residence here will allow. It is intended to maintain such a proportion between the different branches of literature and science, as to form a proper symmetry and balance of character. In laying the foundation of a thorough education, it is necessary that all the important faculties be brought into exercise. When certain mental endowments receive a much higher culture than others, there is a distortion in the intellectual character. The powers of the mind are not developed in their fairest proportions, by studying languages alone, or mathematics alone, or natural or political science alone. The object, in the proper collegiate department, is not to teach that which is peculiar to any one of the professions; but to lay the foundation which is common to them all. There are separate schools of Medicine, Law, and Theology, connected with the college, as well as in various parts of the country, which are open to all who are prepared to enter upon professional studies. With these, the undergraduate course is not intended to interfere. It contains those subjects only which ought to be understood by every one who aims at a thorough education. The principles of science and literature, are the common foundation of all high intellectual attainments. They give that furniture, and discipline, and elevation of the mind, which are the best preparation for the study of a profession, or of the operations which are peculiar to the higher mercantile, manufacturing, or agricultural establishments.

For a more particular view of the plan of education in the college, see Reports on the Course of Instruction, published in Vol. 15th of the American Journal of Science.

The Berkeleian Premium, of about forty-six dollars a year, is given to the scholar in each class who passes the best examination in Latin and Greek; provided he reside as a graduate in New-Haven, one, two, or three years. Premiums are also given for Latin and English composition, and for declamation in public.

There are two public examinations of the classes in a year,—one in May, the other in September,—which are continued from four to six days each. The candidates for degrees are also examined at the close of their course of study.

There are three vacations in a year; one of six weeks, beginning at Commencement, the second Wednesday in September; the second, two weeks from the second Wednesday in January; and the third, four weeks from the first Wednesday in May.—No student is allowed to be absent, without special leave, except in vacations. The absence of a student in term time, even for a few days occasions a much greater injury to his education, than is commonly supposed by parents and guardians.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

Prayers are attended in the College chapel every morning and evening, with the reading of the Scriptures; when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present. They are also required to attend public worship in the chapel on the Sabbath, except such as have permission to attend the Episcopal, or other congregations in town.

EXPENSES.

The College bills are made out by the Treasurer and Steward three times a year, at the close of each term; and are presented to the students, who are required to present them to their parents, guardians, or patrons. If any student fails to comply with this requisition, he is not permitted to recite till the bills are paid.

The annual charges in the Treasurer's bill are,

For instruction, - - - - -	$33 00
For rent of chamber in college, from 6 to 12 dollars,—average, - - - - -	9 00
For ordinary repairs and contingencies, -	2 40
For general damages, sweeping, &c., about -	3 30
For wood for recitation rooms, about -	1 30
	$49 00

Besides this the student may be charged for damages done by himself, and a small sum for printing catalogues, and other occasional expenses.

Board is furnished in commons by the Steward, at cost, about $1 60 a week; or $64 a year, not including vacations. It varies, however, with the price of provisions. Wood is procured by the Corporation, and distributed to those students who apply for it at cost and charges.

The students provide for themselves bed and bedding, furniture for their rooms, candles, books, stationary, and washing.—There are also, in the several classes, taxes of a small amount, for the fuel in the recitation rooms, catalogues, &c. If books and furniture are sold, when the student has no farther necessity for them, the expense incurred by their use will not be great.

The following may be considered as a near estimate of the necessary expenses, without including apparel, pocket money, travelling, and board in vacations.

Treasurer's bill, as above, - -	$49	$49
Board in Commons, 40 weeks, -	from 60 to	70
Fuel and light, - - - -	8	16
Use of books recited, and stationary, -	5	15
Use of furniture, bed, and bedding, -	5	15
Washing, - - - - - -	8	18
Taxes in the classes, &c. - -	5	7
TOTAL,		$140 to $190

No students are permitted to take lodgings in town except when the rooms in College are not sufficient to accommodate all.

Students who wait in the hall, are allowed their board; and those who occupy the recitation rooms, save their room rent and fuel in winter, and receive a small compensation in summer. A cheap boarding house is opened under the direction of the Steward, for those students who wish for board at a lower rate than it is furnished in commons.

By a resolve of the Corporation, a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars a year, is appropriated to the relief of indigent students, and the encouragement of merit.

Notes of the several incorporated banks in this State, and such other notes as are taken by the banks in the city of New-Haven, are received in payment of the bills. Drafts on New-York, Philadelphia, and Boston, are received without discount. Money or drafts to pay the Treasurer's and Steward's bill, may be transmitted directly to STEPHEN TWINING, Esq., who is Steward and Assistant Treasurer.

With regard to apparel, and what is called pocket-money, no general estimate can be made. These are the articles in which the expenses of individuals differ most; and in which some are unwarrantably extravagant. There is nothing by which the character and scholarship of the students at this college are more endangered, than by a free indulgence in the use of money.—Great caution, with regard to this, is requisite on the part of parents. What is more than sufficient to defray the ordinary expenses, will expose the student to numerous temptations; and will not contribute either to his respectability, or his happiness.

As a precaution against extravagance, parents at a distance frequently deposit funds with some one of the Faculty; who, in that case, pays a particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settles his bills, corresponds with the parent, transmits an account of the expenditures, &c., for which he charges a commission.

A person admitted to an advanced standing, unless coming from another college, pays a sum to the Treasurer, equal to the tuition money, which has been paid by others of the class which he enters.

The Theological Department.

THE Instructers in the Theological department are a Professor of Didactic Theology, a Professor of Sacred Literature, and the Professors of Divinity and of Rhetoric in the classical department of the College.

The whole course of instruction occupies three years; and the students are divided into Junior, Middle, and Senior classes.

The time of admission is at the commencement of the first collegiate term. The terms and vacations are the same with those in the college. The conditions for entrance are hopeful piety, and a liberal education at some college, unless the candidate have otherwise qualified himself for pursuing advantageously the prescribed course of studies.

No charges are made for the tuition and lectures.

No funds have as yet been granted to this department for defraying the expenses of indigent students.

Board may be obtained in private families at from $1,25 to $1,75 per week.

The Law School.

The Law School is under the direction of the Hon. David Daggett, LL. D., a Judge of the Supreme Court in Connecticut, and Professor of Law; and Samuel J. Hitchcock, Esq., attorney and counsellor at law.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatises, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subject they are studying.

A course of lectures is delivered by the Professor of Law, on all the titles and subjects of Common and Statute Law.

A moot court is holden once a week, or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments, connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the college libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern.

The terms for tuition are $75 per annum. The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks vacation each year. Students are however received for a shorter period.

The Professor of Law will also, for the present, occasionally deliver Lectures to the Senior class in College, until arrangements are made for a systematic course to be permanently continued.

The Medical Institution.

The Instructers of the Medical Institution, are a Professor of Surgery and Obstetrics, a Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy, a Professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic, a Professor of Materia Medica and Botany, and a Professor of Anatomy and Physiology.

The lectures commence the last week in October, and terminate the last week in February. During the course from 50 to 100 lectures are given by each Professor.

The students have access to the lectures on Natural Philosophy on paying the fees of the course, and they may attend the lectures on Mineralogy and Geology without charge. The Examination for licences and degrees is held immediately after the close of the lectures.

The Institution is furnished with a library and an Anatomical museum. The students have access also to the Library of the College, and to the Cabinet of Minerals.

The fees, which are paid in advance, are twelve dollars and 50 cents for each course. The Matriculation fee and contingent bill are 7 dollars and 50 cents. The entire expense of a residence of four months, through the course, including fees and all expenses, except clothing, is from 120 to 150 dollars.
