REPORT OF THE SECRETARY

Time's onward march has brought in sight the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Connecticut Training School for Nurses. With the on-going time some of the many possibilities and probabilities of one year ago are now recorded as having become real and actual. Both the old order and the new speak the praise of the originators whether early or late and any and all changes but emphasize the worthy foundations upon which they rest.

There has been no change in the personnel of the Board of Administration the last year. The more recent members have added to its strength and initiative and their active interest has been most helpful. The prospective new members whose names are presented for election to-day are: Mrs. Raynhem Townshend and Mrs. Winchester Bennett.

To the memory of Mr. Oliver S. White we would pay a grateful tribute in remembrance of his interest in our school as was shown in the willing service of auditing our accounts.

The superintendent of nurses, Miss Butcher, while experiencing some changes in her staff of assistants, has kept the perplexities of the situation submerged and has succeeded in filling vacancies for the time at least so that the work has gone on without “let or hindrance.” Miss Lucy Jolly is engaged as instructor for this year, coming from the Teachers College of Columbia University. She entered upon her duties with the in-coming class of probationers.

The Medical unit under Dr. Flint which sailed August 14 for “somewhere,” took Miss Lillian Johnson, assistant superintendent, from her position where she was most valued and valuable. There were fourteen in the nursing section of the unit, eleven being our own graduates, and Miss Johnson had the honor of being appointed chief.

The graduates of the year have mostly gone their several ways to take up the work for which they have been trained. Experience is now their teacher. They have all passed the State examination for registration of nurses and attained a good, some an exceptionally good, rank. Their successors, as seniors, now give dignity and character to the school as a whole. It is a pleasure to feel that the atmosphere portends a wish on their part to make good in every particular.

The following table shows the coming and going of probationers and nurses, the number at the close of the year being seventy-four:

| Number of nurses remaining in School Oct. 1, 1916 | 75 |
| Admitted between Oct. 1, 1916, and Oct. 1, 1917 | 47 |
| Graduated | 24 |
| Left, dropped, etc. | 10 |
| Probationers rejected or dropped | 14 |
| Remaining Oct. 1, 1917 | 74 |

The number of patients at the same date was 197. The daily average has been 234.

The health of the nurses is a great consideration. The record of the year preceding shows that there were seventy-three cases of sickness among the nurses, and this year the number was forty-five, making a favorable contrast.

Graduation week opened with a special vespers service by the vested choir of Trinity Church and the baccalaureate sermon by Mr. Scoville. The graduation exercises occurred Tuesday, June the fifth, with the usual attractive features of the procession and recessional. The program introduced the new C. T. S. musical club. A group of songs by Mr. Dettinger, accompanied by Miss Stock, contributed to the pleasure of the occasion. Mr. William Quincy Porter made delightful selections for the violin and rendered them delightfully; Mrs. F. C. Porter accompanied him. The address was by Dr. C. E. A. Winslow of Yale University. It was followed throughout with close attention, the subject being Sanitation and Hygiene or Public Health Nursing. Dr. Cox presided in the absence of Mr. Whitney and presented the diplomas. Mr. Snaville offered the invocation. The class of 1917 numbered thirty and all were present at the tea given by the executive committee on the afternoon preceding the graduation. The class supper at Hotel Taft was enjoyed on the evening following the graduation when good fellowship and jollity reigned. It was the culmination of other good times through the year which had served to relieve the strain which the seriousness of their daily duties imposed.

A practical course of seventy-two hours was given the Nurses Aid class which was open to those studying under the auspices of the Red Cross. Upon completing the course the members of the class took their examination which was conducted by their supervisor, Miss Kane.

Affiliation with the Visiting Nurse Association continues and we trust the satisfaction is mutual.

Additions are frequently made to the Reference Library, seventy-three volumes having been added this year. An encyclopedia and the new Century Dictionary are an immediate prospect. Standard works of English Literature have been presented by Miss Anne A. McClister, also three pictures of note and a couch hammock which adds to the physical comfort of the nurses in Davenport House. A porch chair was presented by Mr. C. L. Kitched. These gifts are acknowledged with thanks.

In the Demonstration Room, at the suggestion of Miss Butcher, has been installed a Bausch and Lomb Babopectscope which combines a stereopticon and reflectoscope and permits the projection of ordinary lantern slides and also reflects handwriting and objects as well as illustrations from books and magazines.

The Physical Culture class did so good work it is impossible not to take note of it. The demonstration one evening in February was witnessed by a few invited guests and was most interesting. It showed Miss Daly to be an able and painstaking teacher.

The Nurses' Home has been made more convenient at a large expense as is noted in the treasurer's report. With the two added houses of residence some change has been found necessary in their supervision. Miss Stannard was transferred at her own request to superintend Howard and Davenport houses, and Mrs. Lamb was secured for the position so long and acceptably filled by Miss Stannard in the Home within the Hospital grounds. Mrs. Lamb assumed the duties of her new position last June and shows qualifications which promise well for the future.

The vision of a Recreation Cottage has been most perfectly realized, and "The Rosemary" has been duly appreciated. During the four months it has been in our possession 801 visits have been made by the nurses. Some for the half day, some for a day and night, some for Sunday and some, when invalided, for two or three days. Dr. Cox has done everything in his power for the comfort and pleasure of the nurses. Mrs. Smith has been an admirable house mother and Mary has been her perfect hand-maid. The Hospital committee provided for the stores and salaries, and present and former members of the Training School Board and their friends became responsible for the rent. To those who have so generously given their help and cooperation, we say "thank you," with a very profound sense of its deep significance.

We make grateful acknowledgment to all those who have helped in other ways whether by service or counsel or friendly sympathy.

PROSPECTUS

The Connecticut Training School is fortunate in its environment. The association with the New Haven Hospital, whose service is general and active, whose staff is composed of men of wide experience and knowledge, affords an unusual opportunity for professional study and practice. The proximity to Yale University offers advantages for general culture, as many of the lectures, recitals and exhibitions are open to the public. The woods, mountains and seashore are within easy reach, making ideal places for rest and recreation.

Applications for entrance to the school should be made to the superintendent of nurses, and if approved the applicant will be accepted as a candidate. The applicant should be between twenty-one and thirty-five years of age; and must present a certificate from a clergyman as to good moral character and from a physician as to health. A personal letter should accompany the application, giving briefly a history of her life for the past few years and her reasons and motives for desiring the education of a nurse. If such papers are satisfactory, the applicant will be received for three months’ probation, and board, laundry, and a room in the Nurses’ Home will be provided. An interview is preferable and the candidate may see the superintendent in her office in the Hospital Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from eleven to twelve-thirty o’clock.

The course of instruction is for a period of three years and consists of theoretical and practical teaching by competent nurse teachers, lectures by the attending physicians and surgeons of the Hospital and by instructors from the Medical Department of Yale University.

Nurses will be under the authority of the superintendent of nursing, and subject to the rules of the Hospital. The superintendent will have full power to decide as to their fitness for the work and the propriety of retaining or dismissing them within the three months of trial. They will receive a thorough practical training in the medical and surgical wards for men and women, and in the private ward, which especially fits them for work in private houses. The supervisors of the wards are experienced graduate nurses who give careful personal attention to each pupil-nurse in their respective wards. A good obstetrical training is obtained in the maternity department, each nurse having the entire care of at least six cases. In the Farnam operating building each nurse is on duty from four to six weeks. A professional teacher from New York gives a course of instruction in massage. A period of six weeks in training and practice in visiting nursing is now arranged under the direction of the Visiting Nurse Association. Affiliations may be made for other special work as the need arises.

There are daily periods of recreation and one-half a day weekly. Extra time is given Sunday and is allowed on holidays whenever possible. Seven weeks are allowed for vacations during the three years. If a nurse is ill she is cared for but is expected to make up the time lost.

After the preliminary period of three months, an allowance is given of four dollars a month the remainder of the first year; five dollars the second year and seven dollars the third year. Uniforms will be furnished from the time the pupil is accepted, also the necessary books for study.

Extreme care will be taken in the selection of nurses; only those best fitted for the work will be retained. Nurses will be dismissed at any time in case of misconduct or inefficiency, with the approval of the committee of the Training School. A diploma and a badge pin of the School will be given when the full term is completed satisfactorily.
