² Up to one year is defined as instruments that mature in less than one year.
Substitution

Substitution of the underlying assets for the Bank's term operations will be allowed on a bi-weekly basis, on specific dates, for both the regular term PRA and for the new term PRA for private sector instruments. Substitution dates until the end of June have been announced separately. On the substitution date, the participants will have the right to substitute the securities underlying any transaction subject to notice by noon two business days prior to the substitution date and in accordance with the Bank's Purchase and Resale Agreement. These new substitution dates supersede any prior substitution dates announced for any prior regular 3-month term PRA operation.

In the event that the rating for a specific security used in any Purchase and Resale transaction falls below the minimum required rating level, a substitution will be required the same business day.

The Terms and Conditions for the new Term PRA for Private Sector Instruments and the Terms and Conditions for the regular Term PRA have been amended to reflect the above changes.

The Bank will continue to provide additional term liquidity as long as conditions in financial markets warrant.
