FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Statements contained in this presentation, including statements describing the objectives, projections, estimates, or predictions of the future of the FHLBanks and the Office of Finance, may be “forward-looking statements.” These statements may use forward-looking terminology, such as "anticipates," "believes," "could," "estimates," "expects," "intends," "projects," "plans," "may," "should," "will," "would," "likely," "possible," or their negatives or other variations on these terms. Investors should note that forward-looking statements, by their nature, involve risks or uncertainties. Therefore, the actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied in these forward-looking statements or could affect the extent to which a particular objective, projection, estimate, or prediction is realized.

These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties including, but not limited to, the following: changes in the general economy; changes in interest rates and housing prices; size and volatility of the residential mortgage market; disruptions in the credit and debt markets and the effect on the FHLBanks’ funding costs, sources, and availability; levels and volatility of market prices, rates, and indices, including those that could affect the value of investments or collateral held by the FHLBanks as security; monetary and fiscal policies; changes in liquidity in the financial markets; political events, including legislative, regulatory, judicial, or other developments, that affect the FHLBanks, their members, counterparties, dealers of consolidated obligations, or investors in consolidated obligations (including legislative, regulatory or other actions recommended, proposed or implemented as a result of the FHFA’s comprehensive review of the FHLBank System); natural disasters, pandemics or other widespread health emergencies, terrorist attacks, civil unrest, geopolitical instability or conflicts, trade disruptions, economic or other sanctions, or other unanticipated or catastrophic events; demand for FHLBank advances; competitive forces, including other sources of funding available to FHLBank members; loss of members and repayment of advances made to those members due to institutional failures, changes in the financial health of members or other factors; changes in investor demand for consolidated obligations, including those resulting from any modification of the credit ratings of the U.S. government or the FHLBanks; the ability to introduce new FHLBank products and services and successfully manage the risks associated with those products and services; and the pace of technological change and the ability to develop, secure, and support technology and information systems to effectively manage the risks, including information security.

Investors are encouraged to consider these and other risks and uncertainties that are discussed in periodic combined financial reports posted on the Office of Finance web site, www.fhlb-of.com, and in reports filed by each FHLBank with the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission. None of the FHLBanks or the Office of Finance undertakes any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements contained in this presentation, whether as a result of new information, future events, changed circumstances, or any other reason.

FHLBanks are High-Quality, Low-Risk Housing GSEs

Durable
Solid Asset Quality

The FHLBanks are reliable liquidity providers through a fully-collateralized lending model that has helped shield the FHLBanks from sustaining credit losses on advances since their creation in 1932.

Scalable
Dynamic Capital Base

Cooperative member-provided capital base is designed to expand and contract in response to member borrowing needs.

Flexible
Investor and Market Driven Issuance Model

The FHLBanks maintain issuance programs designed to meet changing investor needs.
The 11 FHLBanks are government-sponsored enterprises (GSEs) organized as cooperatives under an act of Congress (Federal Home Loan Bank Act of 1932).

FHLBanks serve the general public by providing readily available, low-cost funding to approximately 6,500 members, thereby increasing the availability of credit for residential mortgage lending and investment in housing and community development.

FHLBanks fund their operations principally through the sale of debt securities through the Office of Finance.

1. This includes cash, CDs, fed funds sold, securities purchased under agreements to resell, interest-bearing deposits, and U.S. Treasury Obligations (see Slide 12).
2. See Slide 13 for more information.
4. The difference between total capital (GAAP) and regulatory capital relates primarily to accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), which is excluded from regulatory capital, and mandatorily redeemable capital stock, which is included in regulatory capital.
5. Each FHLBank maintains a minimum 4% regulatory capital-to-asset ratio.

A Self-Capitalizing Model

The capital base of the FHLBanks is comprised of member and activity-based capital. Each FHLBank is required to hold a minimum of 4% regulatory capital, in addition to risk-based and leverage capital requirements. (See the Capital footnote in the Combined Financial Report for more information.)

- Members are required to capitalize all advances, typically at 4.0% to 5.0% of principal borrowed.
- FHLBanks may repurchase capital stock once the associated advances have been repaid.

Controlled Scalability: FHLBanks have the ability to hold capital for up to 5 years.

- FHLBanks can manage the traditionally variable capital base to preserve capital during periods of economic stress.

FHFA-ordered prompt corrective action for undercapitalized FHLBanks may include:

- Development and implementation of capital restoration plans, risk management controls, and/or placing limits on dividends and stock redemptions, and
- Increasing capital requirements or temporary surcharges in excess of statutory or regulatory minimums

* Regulatory capital requirements apply to individual FHLBanks, and the combined regulatory capital ratios and amounts are for analysis only.

(1) Community Financial Institution – Total assets capped at $1.42 billion as of 1/1/2023 by FHFA and adjusted annually for inflation.
The FHLBanks manage counterparty credit risk through credit analysis, collateral requirements, and adherence to regulations and policies.

Collateral agreements are required on all derivatives and typically establish collateral delivery thresholds.

Counterparty risk is partially mitigated by use of master netting agreements.

Collateral agreements may contain provisions that require posting of additional collateral if there is a deterioration in a counterparty's credit rating.

The FHLBanks, as required under Dodd-Frank legislation, clear certain types of derivative transactions through derivative clearing houses.

Interest rate swaps comprised 99% of the FHLBanks' derivative instruments, based on notional value as of 3Q2023. Other derivatives allowed by regulation include futures and forwards, swaptions, caps and floors and mortgage delivery commitments. (See Derivative and Hedging Activities for more details.)
Cash and Liquidity Investments

FHLBanks Maintain Contingent Liquidity

- FHFA requires FHLBanks to hold positive cash flow, including certain U.S. Treasuries and short term investments, assuming no access to capital markets and assuming renewal of all maturing advances for a period of between 10 and 30 calendar days.
  - FHLBanks are also required to maintain a liquidity reserve of between 1% and 20% of outstanding letters of credit commitments.
- FHLBanks generally maintain additional liquidity beyond regulatory guidelines to meet obligations in the event of longer-term disruptions to the debt markets.
