YALE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF NURSING
Greetings:

At the Commencement exercises of Yale University to be held in Woolsey Hall on June 23d, the degree of Master of Nursing for the first time will be conferred by President Angell. This year marks the last at which degrees will be conferred by our greatly esteemed President. Throughout the fourteen years since the School of Nursing was founded, Dr. Angell has been our deeply interested advisor and a much-beloved friend. During the pioneer period through which we have been passing he has maintained a far-reaching vision for the future of the School and for its worthwhileness in filling a social need. At times when serious, and occasionally even depressing, problems have confronted us, Dr. Angell has steadfastly supported the ideals and principles upon which the School was established. While always wisely conservative in dealing with financial emergency difficulties, at no time has he permitted the basic standards of education to be sacrificed. A visit to his office for even a brief conference brought a sense of security and courage to the oftentimes discouraged Dean.

A foremost leader in the field of general education, President Angell has been also keenly aware of the fundamental needs of professional education in the realm of the practical arts. His ideals for nursing education have not been limited by past traditions but have been in harmony with the promise of a new era in the interpretation of health and social welfare. We will always owe to President Angell a debt of gratitude and I am confident that, in accord with his report of 1936, he will continue to maintain his confidence in the usefulness of the School of Nursing in Yale University and an interest in its welfare.

To those members of the Alumnae whose work and varied associations in life have carried them far from New Haven and who have not had the pleasure of knowing Mrs. Angell, may I tell you how much she has meant to the School during the past three years. In her charming way she speaks of the students as “our girls in whom we are greatly interested,” and she has demonstrated her friendliness by seeking to know many of them personally. Mrs. Angell for three successive winters has given in her own home a delightful tea for our first and third-year students. To these teas she has invited many others associated with the University to meet the Faculty and students of the School of Nursing. These occasions will be remembered with pleasure as we think of President and Mrs. Angell and the privilege we have had of knowing them personally.

The School has made considerable progress in numbers and in achievement since the last issue of the Alumnae News. At the beginning of the year fifty-nine students were enrolled in the Class of 1939. Our student body then represented eighty institutions scattered throughout the country. The majority, as might be expected, were New England colleges and universities. The total enrollment in the School in October 1936 was 148. In selecting the fifty-nine students for this class we had one hundred applications from which to choose, which demonstrates the new interest in nursing created among college girls. The selection of students is one of the most difficult tasks which confronts the Dean of the School and the Committee on Admissions, even though personal interviews are arranged whenever possible. Could our residential facilities be expanded it would be desirable to enroll from sixty to sixty-five students, of whom we could be reasonably sure that at least fifty would become candidates for the degree.

The four months' graduate course in Ward Management is being given for the last time to fourteen students in the Class of 1937. As announced last year, the basic course in nursing has been increased to thirty-two months and hereafter the fundamentals covered in a one-term period of graduate work will be included for all students in the basic course. A revision of the curriculum was necessary to make the plan practical and workable, but the Faculty is convinced that all the students under its new arrangement will be more adequately prepared as graduates to engage in the practice of nursing.

The first, and still an experimental, step was taken with the Class of 1937 in the use of the general or comprehensive examination. Early in the year the students were informed that such an examination would take place and that it would comprise a written, a practical and an oral test. The written examination was given in March and included the nursing care and treatment of a family of three persons. To analyze and interpret the questions required a clear understanding of certain facts of anatomy, physiology and pathology, and also a discussion of several medical and surgical conditions associated with both adults and children. The situation in this family was socio-logically and psychologically complicated and required a very practical understanding of adjustments in seeking to find solutions for the problems. Many of the students wrote for almost the entire day.
The practical examination given a month later was exceedingly interesting. The class was divided into groups of nine. Each student in the group was informed as to the name of the patient for whom she was to care, and was allowed one free day to prepare herself in any way she desired. Some of the students made a thoughtful study of the patient's history, the nursing care and treatment, and acquainted themselves with the home and family conditions. Others of course were less far-sighted. The morning of the examination the students were given, for a period of hours, the full care of the patients to whom they were assigned, and were later questioned in considerable detail by the nursing and medical instructors, including the psychiatrist, and by instructors in nutrition and in the social aspects of nursing. The students, in the main, acquitted themselves with credit, and while the program for administering such an examination for a class of forty students was both complicated and time-consuming, we are convinced that it is an admirable means of estimating the ability of students and their general knowledge in certain areas, in as far as can be determined by any type of formal test. No doubt with more experience many modifications in the procedure will be suggested.

The problems of nursing have been many and varied during the past year, not only in our own institution but throughout the entire country. The unrest which seems to pervade the world has found its way into nursing. The nursing associations have undertaken studies of various types, in many of which hospital and medical organizations are collaborating.

There is perhaps no better way in which graduates of Yale University School of Nursing can make a contribution to our profession than by associating themselves with their state and national organizations and accepting their share of responsibility in solving the problems with which nursing is faced as it seeks to perform its many functions of service.

When names of Yale graduates appear on professional programs or when they are found associated with active nursing and welfare committees a thrill of joy is felt by those who are eagerly watching their careers. Perhaps you do not realize how much you are needed and also how much you have to give, for be it remembered that "unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required.''

THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

The passing of each year should imply progress, especially in an alumnae organization with a constantly growing membership. Although the past year has not been marked by any outstanding activities for our association we have been trying to establish new contacts and principles which we believe to be of fundamental importance in the development of our alumnae organization.

We consider of primary importance the effort that has been made to associate ourselves more closely with the University Alumni office. In this connection we would like to point out to all our graduates the importance of notifying the University Alumni Office of all changes of names and addresses, and to give them any other appropriate personal or professional information. At this office they keep individual files for each of our graduates and appear to be tremendously interested in all their activities. This information may be used by our organization at any time. In addition to this they are ready and willing, for a nominal sum, to provide us with stenographic assistance which at this time we are unable to provide for ourselves. It would seem that this service is worthy of our co-operation.

Secondly, by the end of this fiscal year we hope to have the treasurer’s books reorganized in an accepted system of bookkeeping, so that we may have our accounts audited. With this in mind we have endeavored to adopt more business-like methods, especially in regard to the collection of dues. Past dues have been billed on this year’s statements, but in the future this will be done only at the request of individual members. An important consideration with respect to our financial status is that the increasing number of graduates is resulting in a relatively large increase in the amount of secretarial work which must be done for the group. In the past and continuing at the present time, the major portion of this work is being carried by the Nursing School Office. To make such demands of that office is becoming more and more of an imposition, and it seems obvious that sometime within the very near future we will have to have at least a part-time executive secretary. This is one argument in favor of a more careful financial organization; others which we do not have time to discuss but which may be as important, although perhaps not as acute, include greater contributions to scholarship funds, national nursing philanthropies, etc., and the endowment of an Alumnae bed.

Thirdly, we again sought the advice of Miss Marion L. Phillips, the Alumni Registrar, in regard to the regional group organization which we started last year. It was her opinion that the continuation of this type of organization would be quite worth while. Many details of the organization, however, are still problems which revert again chiefly to the lack of a secretary who can spend sufficient time to keep the map and files up to date, to carry on regular correspondence with the regional chairmen, to notify them of new members, and to organize new groups in districts where a sufficient number of our graduates become concentrated. In the near future (probably next year) we should make use of these groups in obtaining a quorum vote on all major issues.

THE REGIONAL GROUPS

We are sorry to report that the activities of the New York and Philadelphia groups have been thwarted chiefly because of our inability to provide the Chairmen with revised lists of names and addresses of members in their districts. We hope that this year’s experience will not discourage them, for the Boston Group has proven that this type of organization can be quite worth while and lots of fun.

Elizabeth Bixler has resigned as Chairman of the Boston Group, due to her change in position. Tabitha Wilson was elected as their new Chairman. The group boasts twenty-one members and they have had several well-attended meetings this year. In December they entertained Miss Goodrich at dinner at the College Club. Elizabeth Howland, their Secretary and Treasurer, has assisted our Association Treasurer with the collection of dues from members in that vicinity.

The New Haven Group, Hazel Bowles, Chairman, has had several meetings, the first of which was a dinner meeting at the Faculty Club, with Miss Goodrich and Miss Taylor as guests. Later in the Fall a card party was held for the purpose of raising money for the use of the Infirmary. This was quite successful in that besides $10 "petty cash" to be used at the discretion of the Health Nurse, a tray service was purchased for the use of the sicker inmates of the Infirmary. In March the usual "Opportunity Sale" was held, at which $250.00 was raised toward the Association’s contribution to the Scholarship Loan Fund.

If in any vicinity there are three or more members who would like to organize as a regional group, will they please communicate with the President or Secretary of the Alumnae Association.

FROM OUR DEAN EMERITUS

Colchester, Conn.,
April 14, 1937.

DEAR COLLEAGUES AND FORMER STUDENTS:

I rejoice that through the Alumnae News I can send you a message and not less that through its pages I can learn something of your whereabouts and activities during the past months.

Though increasingly an onlooker I am nevertheless, as you will understand, still deeply concerned that nursing shall not fail in the rôle assigned her for I conceive her part to be of far greater significance in social progress, if such there be, than is generally, if at all, recognized. May I therefore speak to you briefly of three phases of the field that I deem of profound importance and for the furtherance of which I beg your unceasing interest and support.

To you, graduates of a University School in the fullest sense of the term, the relationship of nursing education to the educational system through institutions of higher education may be an established fact; or perhaps you may not consider such relationship essential for all schools of nursing. It is my belief that the full value to the community of this professional service will not be realized except through a program of education that brings every nurse, be her branch what it may, equipped with the essentials for effective practice in the field of health and social welfare; she must be technically expert, scientifically informed and socially experienced. This implies a broad and sound general and professional preparation and a readjustment of the relationship between hospitals and schools of nursing in order that new demands may be met and old values retained, a program of education entirely possible in this democracy and for which in the light of 20th century science we should not have to plead.

A second and not less constructive movement, best described as the development of community nursing service units, presents problems hardly less difficult of solution, so separated by designation and function have the various forms of nursing service been. The integration of these various facets into a mosaic of means through which the community’s health and sickness may be met without financial distress or disaster to the recipient, and with economic security assured the nursing staff, is an intriguing project and one upon which some of you have already embarked.

For the support of these two developments of such social importance it is eminently fitting that governmental aid should be sought, for it is obvious that philanthropy cannot longer carry the increasing burden imposed.

Lastly and most profoundly significant in its far-reaching influence is the International Florence Nightingale Foundation. Never was there a more timely moment for the advancement of a plan and program for the healing of the nations. What a miracle may be seen in the coming together of these two great social forces, the League of Red Cross Societies and the International Council of Nurses, in the name of the woman to whom the world owes an immeasurable debt. This too we must make our cause.

I beg your forgiveness for the responsibilities I am adding to those, personal and professional, that I realize you are already carrying. It is because I know your mettle through past and continued contribution that I venture to do so and because I also know that whether you speak as practitioners of nursing or as home makers your influence will be farther reaching than you dream.

Faithfully yours,

REUNIONS

Reunions will be held this year by the classes of 1927 and 1932. Those acting as reunion chairmen for their respective classes are: Elizabeth Bixler, '27, and Irma Biehusen, '32. If you have not already heard from your chairman, let her know your wishes and intentions—and hear her tentative plans. We hope we may welcome a large number from these classes at Commencement this year.
EPISTOLARY EXTRACTS

Anne Leifingwell, '35, who is doing a T. B. case-finding survey in Montana, writes: "I am still pursuing the tubercle bacillus the length and breadth of Montana and find it still exciting. The pinto horse as a means of travel proved too slow (the bug was always several jumps ahead) and now they are considering putting a governor on my Dodge coupe. Am gaining on it too fast now and the Board of Health thinks I'll soon work myself out of a job. However, I still believe in giving everything a sporting chance. I'm running an average of 1500 to 2000 miles a month. This is ideal for spring but at forty and fifty below zero it has all the earmarks of work. And the thought of having to dig out of one more snowdrift—well we needn't go into that. I have learned to speak the proper language as well as to handle the proper instrument in the emergency.

"At present I am covering Lewis and Clark Counties with headquarters in Helena. There has been only one noticeable quake in the past month and I happened to be out of town for that. Many of the residents are still expecting 'the big one' which they insist hasn't happened yet. However I hope they are wrong. Much of the damage of a year and a half ago is still not repaired and many houses are still standing with one or more walls entirely gone. I held my clinic for the local High School Mantoux test in an old baggage car, which is now the library. The high school is still on wheels, housed in some fifteen or twenty old passenger coaches on sidetracks. By next fall it is the hope of the townspeople to have at least four of the new school buildings ready for use. I believe only two or three of the public schools were not condemned to the point of having to be entirely rebuilt.

"Another of my small High Schools is in Marysville some thirty-five miles up in the mountains. For years it was a ghost town having been one of the rich gold mining towns of the early days. Now it is again producing quantities of ore. I drove out yesterday and gave a test there. The roads are what are termed here unimproved which means that they have never been touched. It was all right going out in the early morning but on the return a heavy rainstorm had turned the clay into grease. Twice I found myself travelling crosswise of the road which was too narrow for the length of my car so as a consequence my front wheels were hanging into the canyon. I believe there is an especial providence which looks after public health nurses, Workers, though love the uniform class was pitiful has eagerly to think it some new on intuitively I seems to me before, touched to above all ourstrate people educate to educated one is lucky. A dust storms, been here ever since. It’s wonderful country, mountains, sun, dust storms, blizzards in September, sunbaths in December, and the

and I am sure there are answered, special prayers which come to us intuitively on such occasions.

"Am feeling the need for more education so I am looking about for some new and different program this summer. At the moment I think it will be a trip to Los Angeles to an Institute for Tuberculosis Workers, though I might better get a lot more of health education.

"I have lost track of everyone in Y. S. N., it seems, and am looking eagerly to the publication of the Alumnae News. New Haven Hospital has become a part of the dim past and I can scarcely feel that I was ever a part of it. I don’t suppose I shall ever join the white uniform class again. I have become a nomad in the profession. I love the new towns and the new contacts and the old towns and old friends to which I return periodically. And I love the freedom of the open road, the beauty of Montana’s mountains, the lonely desolation of her prairies peopled largely by gophers and magpies, and above all I think I like being a pioneer in a field that hasn’t been touched before, even though trail blazing is hard, hard work that seems to go on for twenty-four hours a day.

"In the hospital everything is comparatively simple, patterned in a neat little set of routines, with hours ‘on duty’ and hours off, if one is lucky. Patients come to the hospital without having to be educated to it. In tuberculosis case-finding the greatest task is to educate people to realize we have something to offer as well as demonstrate our value. The usual routine is eight to ten hours of day time labor and then three or four hours of night time ‘contact’ work getting it across to the public in whatever form it seems to be assembled. And at the end of that time one must still be sweet and fresh to say nothing of being interested and enthusiastic. It is always at the tag end of a long drawn out teachers’ meeting or women’s club or Rotary dinner that little Jane’s mother would like one’s undivided attention about the value of Cod Liver Oil for reactos or Billy’s father would like to discuss Billy and the rest of the family with or without the possibility of having inherited tuberculosis from great Uncle Ben, who probably never saw any of the present generation."

From Abigail Dewing, ’35: "As for me and my work, we’re very happy together. I graduated from Simmons last June, and spent the summer climbing and camping in the far West, part of the time with Jane Foster. Then the first of September I came to Denver and have been here ever since. It’s wonderful country, mountains, sun, dust storms, blizzards in September, sunbaths in December, and the most horrible array of neon lamps, advertising everything imaginable. The work is generalized here—35 nurses on the staff, and I couldn’t imagine a more congenial group to work with. My district varies from the elite Park Hill section to the negroes and Mexicans. There have been two fatal shootings in the past year on one street. In between there is a City Park with a zoo and duck pond which is pleasant at lunch time.

"Week ends I go skiing at 11,000 feet and over, and there’s a roller skating rink at the end of the street.

"Martha Jayne and Elizabeth Kemper and I have had a couple of reunions but we all wish it had been oftener. When the days get longer we hope for better!"

Bunny Lacount Cowan, ’32, who is "at home" in Muskogee, Oklahoma, writes: "I have had a busy year . . . . The Red Cross finally organized three classes for 'Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick' in the Junior High School where Clint is teaching. We had forty-two students in all—a beginning at least. It is all volunteer work, but I thoroughly enjoy it. I never had any formal education practice, so you can imagine the work at first—however it is quite easy now. Three afternoons, 3-5, and mornings used for preparation consume a considerable amount of one's leisure time. Hence the Red Cross pays to have my washing and ironing done! A very nice exchange I think.

"Our project for a 'health unit' met too many financial obstacles but we did get the 'part time nurse' to expand to 'full time' with full time pay! Perhaps in a year or two we may succeed further.

"Just now the Muskogee County Medical Association has heartily endorsed the Birth Control League work, to the extent of giving consent for a Clinic and appointing a committee to work with the New York representative and nurses in the city to start a Clinic immediately. I have been recommended for clinic chairman. Unless politics upsets the plan I shall accept—in fact I am dying to start going. Well, anyway, there's always someone or something to work on or at!

"In my 'Home Hygiene' work I meet young girls who are looking to nursing as a career. You may well be sure that I emphasize University Nursing Training—and I talk continually of Yale. I'm sometimes astounded and surely delighted to find most girls want the University training. It is heartening to see the change in public opinion."
Hope Perry, '30, with headquarters in Waterville, Maine, is working for the state and government on a program under the Social Security Act. Besides doing School Nursing and organizing Maternity Clinics in the towns around Waterville, she is holding a series of Maternity Institutes in Augusta, Bangor, and Portland.

Mildred Negus, '30, has also joined the "down-easters" as County Nurse in Aroostook County, Maine.

Dorothy Huey, '31, has deserted Andover for Smith, where she is Director of Nursing at the College Infirmary. From all reports she has there all the problems of a small hospital plus a lot more.

"Ginny" Raymond Lathrop, '35, is returning to the U. S. in August. Now we will all have a good excuse for visiting West Point where her husband has an appointment as French Instructor.

Marguerite Luce, '31, having completed five years' work with the American Presbyterian Mission in China, is expected to return to the U. S. on furlough sometime in the near future. Wouldn't it be fun to have Peg with us for Commencement?

After spending her vacation job-hunting in the West, Ruth Burcham, '33, finally came East again to work as Field Supervisor in the Connecticut State Department of Public Health Nursing. On May 10th she will again be found on the West coast—as Director of the Seattle V. N. A. When this transcontinental shuttling will stop there is no telling! Though we wish her all success in her new responsibilities, we will welcome her return to the East—whenever that may be.

"Billie" Clinton Priestley, '32, and her husband are sailing on June 19th for a three months' vacation in England.
Peggy Holmes Rodgers, '35, completed her rest cure in December, arriving back in New York only to have an emergency appendectomy. She has now recovered enough to give her husband some belated attention!

Dot Birney, '35, is working at the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and in addition to keeping up her music is studying aesthetic dancing.

Jane Foster, '35, has had a fine year as assistant medical director at Sarah Lawrence. A recent article of hers was "Dieting Daughters" in the February issue of Hygeia. In the January Progressive Education she wrote about the health service at Sarah Lawrence.

Polly Parker, '35, has followed in Jane Foster’s footsteps as Health Nurse and student at Reed College, Portland, Oregon. She considers her thesis on college health a much bigger problem than case-studies ever were.

Jimmie Tilton Davis, '31, and family have moved into their new home—more room, more ground, beautiful view. Probably chicken-raising and gardening will be added to her list of activities now.

Elizabeth Bixler, '27, having successfully launched her postgraduate course in Psychiatric Nursing at the Worcester State Hospital, began new duties on February 1st as Director of Nursing at the New York Hospital, Westchester Division (commonly known as Bloomingdale Hospital), White Plains, N. Y.

Luke Shaw Schultz, '31, is back in Bay City, Michigan, getting re-acquainted with the people in her home town.

Elizabeth Barry, '36, is with the Dorchester Branch of the Boston V. N. A. Besides her own large district she holds Mothers’ classes and is doing the Mental Hygiene work of her district. It sounds like a job!
Helen Noyes MacKay, '30, has been busy helping her husband with the publication of a weekly newspaper. She is doing her bit for public health by inserting health hints. She is also helping the State Child Health worker with the organization of a pre-school clinic.

Ann Hotchkiss, '34, is now Operating Room Supervisor at Gouverneur Hospital in New York City.

Helen Archer Bosworth, '32, in spite of a temporary desire to retire, has been occupied in the capacity of Supervisor to a group of W. P. A. nurses doing various types of Public Health Nursing in the counties adjacent to Albany.

By the time this goes to press, Isabel Howe Wegman, '31, should be the proud foster mother of a fine litter of pups!

Dorothy Peck, '32, is working with the New York State Department of Health as a Public Health Nurse in Albany County. We are sure that she is doing a good job in the organization of a program where there has been no Public Health Nurse for ten or twelve years.

Elizabeth Waterbury, '27, has resigned her position as supervisor with the Philadelphia Visiting Nurse Society as of April 15th and returns to the New York State Department of Health where she formerly worked. Her headquarters will be in Rochester.

Ethel Elliott, '34, has been made an Assistant Supervisor in one of the Brooklyn V. N. A. offices.

Polly Band, '35, has joined the staff of the Brooklyn V. N. A.
Iva Torrence, '34, is doing Medical-Social work at the Greenwich Settlement House in New York City.

Reports from Trudeau Sanatorium are very encouraging re Jane Mett, '30. She is anticipating spending part of the spring and summer in New York and Westport.

Edith Windeler, '30, has just accepted a position as Assistant Supervisor of the Out-Patient Department at Gouverneur Hospital in New York City.

Ina Reynolds, '30, went to the convention in San Francisco, 1936, and liked the country and the people so much that she stayed on in Public Health work there.

Kay Sprague, '35, has been spending the winter helping her father with his ski equipment business and has proven to be as capable at that as she was at nursing. On March 7th she announced her engagement to Mr. Robert Hodgson, jeweler, of Newton, Mass. The wedding is to take place sometime in June.

Grace Lyman, '31, has resigned her position at the University of California Hospital as of June 1st. Indulging in a two months' vacation, Grace will visit her sister in Oregon and Eleanor King in New Mexico.

Our other members in San Francisco insist that they have "no news."

Jane Harshberger, '36, writing from the Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia, mentions something about having "Fathers' Classes"—a new day dawns!

Peg Birchard, '36, reports a new job with the Yonkers V. N. A. Up to now she has been with the Orange Public Health and has seen Nick D'Esopo at Bellevue whenever time allowed.
We understand that Lucille Heist Brown, '29, and her artist husband are doing big things in Daytona Beach, Florida. Lucille, after being a Medical-Social worker with "a secretary, clerk, and 59 investigators under my wing," has now turned to running "a cute old Inn." We'll remember this when we leave for our winter in the sunny South and will look forward to seeing the art exchange which "friend husband" has planned.

Helen Enches, '29, in Omaha, writes: "This town is developing a Yale-in-Nebraska spirit. We have Olive Walkley, '28, here at the Clarkson Hospital as Instructor, and we have at our own hospital (University of Nebraska Hospital) Mrs. Norma Selbert, formerly resident director of Nathan Smith Hall, as a Medical-Social worker."

Ruth Dean and Elizabeth Sanborn, '36, and perhaps another V. N. A.-er will leave Oct. 1st for Europe. They plan to spend a year travelling on the continent, earning their way by means of their profession. Their first stop will probably be the American Hospital in Paris, but plans are not yet complete.

Priscilla Halpert, '27, has left for the South! Dr. Halpert has an appointment as Assistant Professor in the Department of Pathology at the Louisiana State University Medical Center in New Orleans. Prepare your masks and costumes, people—for we're invited to the Mardi Gras!

Between the last job and waiting for a call to Washington, D. C., Peg Halloran, '32, is doing private duty in New York City.

Adelle Baldwin Lanoue, '31, has spent the past year "on leave" in New York City, where her husband has been studying. On July 10th they are sailing again for the Belgian Congo where they will spend another five years in the Baptist Mission.

Marion Raynor Farnham, '33, is enjoying her home and garden in Port Washington, N. Y. Two days each week she returns to the city to conduct Mothers' Classes for the Maternity Center.
Extra!

The presses have been delayed for this headline news! But we are sure you will consider the delay worth while!

Ruth Lyman, '31, has become engaged, married and honeymooned within the past ten days! The wedding took place about 6:30 P.M. on Monday, April 26th, in Bedford, N. Y.—witnessed by a contingent of twenty from New Haven. The groom, Mr. John Fanselow, is Superintendent of Chemical Research at the Kimberly-Clark Paper Co. in Neenah, Wis. They will make their home, after about August 1st, in Appleton, Wis.

Ruth certainly will be missed in New Haven—both as Medical Supervisor, and as an energetic supporter and popular member of our Alumnae Association. Our very best wishes and heartiest congratulations, Ruthie and John!

Anne Wertz McNeish, '36, writes from Surrey, England, that "living with a Scotsman is lots of fun. I'm all for the Scotch!" Her husband is Medical Officer of Health with the Surrey County Council. They are living where they may look out across the Thames to Hampton Court, London. Maybe Anne will send us some first-hand information about the coronation!

A letter comes from Jean Russell, '32, that she has just completed a year's work and is still working as a staff nurse on a private floor of Memorial Hospital in Syracuse, N. Y. We're glad to hear, Jean, that you are again in good health after that long and tedious convalescence.

Laura Burrough, '33, who travels all over her county in the interest of Public Health, has, we understand, at times a very unique means of transportation—on a coal mine train. Having arrived by said train, the entire population of the town, expecting a visit from their nurse, meets her and escorts her to the town hall for vaccinations or what have you. Having finished her day's work, the town escorts her back to her diminutive train—and so home. Imagine our dignified Laura in such a situation!
