MRS. HYDE LEAVES NATHAN SMITH

Mrs. Anna Walker Hyde, residence director of Nathan Smith since September, 1945, has left YSN this Fall to become social dean of the Northampton School for Girls, Mass. Mrs. Hyde is no stranger to Northampton, having resided there when her late husband was treasurer of Smith College. In parting, Mrs. Hyde asked that all of 'her girls' write her and extended an invitation to them to 'drop in to visit' when in the area. We hope that she will be happy in her new position and our best wishes follow her always.

AUTHOR, AUTHOR

The May issue of Nursing World was almost an all Yale-contributed issue with articles on pediatric subjects from the pens of LaVerne Fakkema '54, Louisa Urey Murray '54 and Elizabeth Kirkwood '45W. The faculty was represented by Trude R. Aufhauser. In the August issue of the same magazine, there was an article by Joanne Heckman Blyler '55, which she had originally written as a student paper. Let's keep those typewriters going, girls!

A DIRECTOR OF INFORMATION FOR YSN

Those of you who have read the Report of the Subcommittee on Nursing of the Medical Affairs Committee of the University will recall that group's recommendation that YSN employ a 'director of interpretation'. Such a person on the staff, they felt, could concentrate on developing an intensified program of recruitment, including contact work with colleges and the preparation and distribution of literature about the school, and could work in cooperation with the Yale News Bureau in developing news releases and magazine articles to interpret the school's program to the general public, health agencies, foundations, clubs and other organized groups 'in a position to sponsor or support the general advancement of nursing leadership'.

At the same time that these recommendations were being considered, the Alumnae Association had been thinking about its need for professional assistance in raising money for the Annie W. Goodrich Endowment Fund. So with University approval, both the School and the A.A. are sharing the services and salary of Miss Rheta B. Glueck, who came on the New Haven scene on July 1st.

A Penn State graduate, Miss Glueck has had varied experience on newspapers, magazines and in public relations. She served with Red Cross and Army Public Relations in Europe after World War II. From 1949 to 1953, she was an assistant to the director of public relations at the New York Hospital-Cornell Continued on Page Three
IN MEMORIAM: LOUISE MAROCCHI '48

On August 16th in Waterbury Hospital, Louise Marocchi died of Hodgkins Disease. Lu had been keeping her illness to herself for some time and we were relieved that her suffering had come to an end. We have lost a sweet friend and classmate.

She did not ask for help or assistance until she could no longer care for herself. Her last year was spent at her home in Waterbury, where her family cared for her night and day. About four weeks before her death, Ann Petrillo and I spent an hour with her at which time she was cheerful and gay even though partially paralyzed. She asked about the Hospital and the people she knew. Her interest and animation were the same as they were eight or nine years ago when one of us might have dropped into her room at Sterling for a chat. Prior to returning home, Lu worked at New York Neurological Institute. Before that, she had worked on surgery and in the E.R. at G-NHCH.

We've lost a most friendly person who went about her work with great seriousness and selflessness but one who was always ready to laugh and enjoy the humor of a situation. Our sincere sympathy goes to her family to whom she was most devoted and by whom she was greatly admired and loved.

NEW FACES

Your Alumnae Bulletin has been changing editors often. After putting out only three issues, I have to resign because I am leaving New Haven for a new job in Washington, D.C. The Bulletin is going into very capable hands, however. Mary Jane Dews '47 has agreed to take over with the next issue.

There are some other changes being made, too. Have you noticed the new 'face' on this issue? We've changed both the method of printing and the paper stock in an effort to cut costs and at the same time, bring you more news. Perhaps you never realized that the Alumnae Association sends the Bulletin not only to dues-paying members but to all alumnae, students, and friends of YSN. Printing and postage are costly - so that's why the economy wave. Have you any ideas on what should go into the Bulletin...things we might add...things we might subtract? Perhaps you visualize a completely different role for our publication - or perhaps you like it just as it is.

Why don't you drop a note to the new editor? She'd love to hear from you.

Medical Center and was closely associated with the public relations program of Cornell University-New York Hospital School of Nursing. Most recently she did fund raising publicity for the Greater New York Campaign, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.
'TONI' DANIELS NEW YSN REGISTRAR

Antoinette (‘Toni’) Daniels ’30 assumes the position of registrar of the School this Fall. Among the positions she has held since her graduation from YSN are assistant supervisor and head nurse at New Haven Hospital; night supervisor at the American University Hospital in Beirut, Lebanon; instructor in nursing arts, YSN and assistant supervisor of nurses at the Emergency Hospital in Washington. Until recently, she had been doing private duty nursing in New Haven. She has a B.A. from Radcliffe.

Miss Mildred Oberemt, who has been an assistant in administration at YSN for many years and who has worked closely with the previous registrars, will become assistant registrar.

ELEANOR KING GOES WEST

Eleanor King ’32, Associate Professor of Public Health Nursing in the Department of Public Health and YSN, has resigned her position at Yale and has gone to Albuquerque, N.M where she will assume new duties as Dean of the new College of Nursing at the University of New Mexico. Jeanette Evans, registrar of YSN for the past two years, has also resigned and will live in Albuquerque. Both were honored at a farewell picnic given by the Public Health and Nursing faculties and staffs at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. George Darling on one of the Thimble Islands.

MARRIAGES

Oops, pardon our typewriter for garbling two weddings in the last issue. It’s:

A. W. GOODRICH FUND PROGRESS REPORT

While the money keeps coming in, we're still a mighty long way from our goal. We are happy to report the following recent generous gifts:

$154.25 - Class of '55, YSN

$100.00 - Student Council, YSN.

$233.00 - Boston Regional Group, YSN Alumnae Association. This group has given many large gifts to the fund.

$100.00 - Alumnae Association of Conn. Training School. Many C.T.S. alums have also given individually.

$150.00 - Cornell University-New York Hospital School of Nursing Alumnae Association and Student Body. Miss Goodrich was a graduate of New York Hospital's nursing school and its supt. of nurses for several years.

$70.00 - New Haven Regional Group profits from August theatre benefit at Oakdale Music Theatre, Wallingford. They sold over 400 seats to Gentlemen Prefer Blondes.

$520.60 - District 4, Conn. State Nurses Association.

$50.00 - District 3, C.S.N.A.

$50.00 - District 1, C.S.N.A.

$100.00 - C.S.N.A., District No. unknown as we go to press.

$419.10 - P.R.N. staff duty by 14 members of New Haven Regional Alumnae Group (see details below).

$1552.55 - Yale Alumni Fund's 1954-55 campaign net profits (further details below).

Putting in many hours of floor duty after regular working hours or taking time off from household chores, 14 New Haven area alums have rolled up a total of $419.10 for the AWG Endowment Fund during the past year. Dean Elizabeth S. Bixler is credited with 24 hours of psychiatric nursing service. Others who contributed are Eleanor Tilton Davis '31; Katherine Davis '48; Helen Bennett '53; Shirley Parkhill '47; Eleanor Chapman '53; Elizabeth Wilkinson '32; Virginia Brantl '51; Barbara Kane '47; Dorothy MacLennan '52; Jane Donovan '52; Rosalind Loutrel '48; Elizabeth Plummer '46W; and Evelyn Sturmer, M.S. '53 and former faculty.

For the past three campaigns of the Yale Alumni Fund, all YSN contributions have been credited to the AWG Endowment Fund at the request of Dean Bixler. We're happy to announce that the Alumni Fund, thanks to your generous giving, has been able to turn over $5,169.43 to the AWG Endowment Fund for this three year period. There were 191 contributors to the drive just ended compared to 198 the previous year. Giving was somewhat off, too: in the 1953-54 campaign, $2292.78 was credited to the AWG Fund as compared with this year's drive which netted only $1552.55. You've heard it many times before but we'll say it again - give - whether through the Alumni Fund or directly to the AWG Endowment Fund. The money's all going to the same great cause.

Two faculty members have made noteworthy contributions to the AWG Fund. Jean MacLean '33, Professor of Nursing Education, has contributed her salary from a ward administration course she taught recently at Cedarcrest Sanatorium, Hartford. Trude R. Aufhauser, Assistant Professor of the Nursing Care of Children, has donated her royalty check for a magazine article in Nursing World.
