ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION OFFICERS AND REPRESENTATIVES

Elected Vice-President in the June election of officers was Elizabeth McGarry '51 while Mary Dye '58 was re-elected as Secretary. Mary Stone Brodridh '57 and Sarah Turner '56 were elected to the Board of Directors for a two year term. Continuing to serve are Lucy Conant '50 as President and Elizabeth Smith Day '52 as Treasurer. Helene Fitzgerald '26, Charlotte Birely Lindskog '26 and Anna Bazlak '58 are members of the Board of Directors for a second year.

Doris Wellenkamp '53 was elected Chairman of the Nominating Committee, with Jean Ann Opperman '53 and Barbara Stryker Pratt '56 elected as the other members. However Barbara Pratt and Doris Wellenkamp have had to resign, and serving in their place are Dorothy Sowter LeBar '49 and Jane Stana '53.

Our Alumnae Association is entitled to have four representatives on the Alumni Board, an organization formed of delegates from all Yale alumni associations. Continuing as our representatives are Eleanor Keating Gill '38 from Boston, Frances Lynn '52 from New York City and Betty Due Reilly '46W from Hartford. Our new representative this year is Anne Goodrich Waters '26 of Darien, Conn.

This year the Association will miss the extremely able leadership of Eleanor Tilton Davis '31 as Chairman of its Finance Committee, but we are fortunate to have as the new chairman Nelliana Best '40, who is Associate Professor of Public Health Nursing at the University of Bridgeport College of Nursing. Serving with her on this important committee are Dorothy Peck Skilton, '32 from Lakeside, Barbara Kane '47 from Willimantic, Ruth Landau Benedict '48 of Hamden, Shirley Weber Howard '51 from Orange, Connecticut, and Elizabeth Plummer '46W from New York City.

ALUMNAE DAY
FEBRUARY 17, 1962

The weatherman had forecast snow and sleet, but fortunately he proved to be wrong for Alumnae Day. Despite the dubious weather, alumnae arrived from neighboring states as well as from the local area. Betsy Clarke '57 was in charge of the morning coffee with help from Marcia Curtis '57. Tony Daniels '30 and Elizabeth Bucholz '30 took care of registration.

Our main speaker was Brian Abel-Smith who is Visiting Senior Fellow in Law and Sociology at Yale this term. He is also the author of A History of the Nursing Profession and teaches Social Administration at the London School of Economics. Speaking on "Issues in Nursing: A British Point of View," he discussed differences between British and American nursing, the reasons for these differences and their implications for nursing. Witty and thought-provoking, he gave a most stimulating talk.

At noon alumnae sallied across town to the Yale Commons to join all the other Yale alumni for luncheon, the awarding of Yale medals for outstanding service to Yale and an address by President Griswold. Back at Brady the afternoon program consisted of Ruth Elder '60 discussing "What our M.S. and M.S.N. Graduates are Doing" and as an illustration Mrs. Rhetaugh Dumas '61 presented her research study "Effect of Nursing Care on Surgical Patients," which is being conducted with a grant from the United States Public Health Service.

The Alumnae Day program ended with sherry in the Beaumont Room.

REMEMBER ALUMNAE DAY
JUNE 9, 1962
JUNE 9, 1962

Planning is under way for our Alumnae Day on Saturday, June 9, 1962. It will be a reunion year for the classes of 1927, 1932, 1937, 1942, 1947, 1947W, 1952 and 1957. The class secretaries of these classes are making plans for special get-togethers during that weekend. In the morning of the ninth, there will be the annual business meeting followed by a program in the afternoon. That evening the usual dinner will be held in the President's Room at Woolsey Hall. The question has been asked at a meeting of the Board of Directors, "Why don't we invite the men?" The School has men on its faculty and sometimes has had men students. A number of husbands come with their wives to New Haven, even though traditionally our Alumnae Day has preceded the University reunion weekend. Also, the graduating class is invited to the dinner and some of these students are married. The Board members were in favor of inviting the men but wondered how other alumnae felt. They will be glad to hear your reactions and comments.

ACTIVITIES AT THE A.N.A. CONVENTION

As has been traditional for the past few years, there will be a Y.S.N. luncheon at the American Nurses Association Convention in Detroit. It will be held midway during the convention on Wednesday, May 16th, in Room 2048, Cobo Hall. If you are planning to attend the convention this year, do save time to come to the luncheon and visit with your Y.S.N. friends.

Scheduled to present papers at the Clinical Sessions to date are: Priscilla C. Parke '45, Beverly Dunston Scott '55, Anne Baziaj '58, Joyce Cameron '61, Hilda Mertz '61, and Juliana Rhymes and Phyllis Tryon of the present senior class.

REGIONAL MEETINGS

Questionnaires were sent to alumnae in the New York City area this fall regarding their interests and preferences for an alumnae meeting. The response was disappointingly small to Elizabeth Plummer '46W who is head of this regional group. One perennial problem for this group has been the lack of a convenient meeting place. The Yale Club frequently has been mentioned as an ideal location but its private and masculine character has presented a barrier. However, this fall the Manager of the Yale Club notified Liz that the alumnae request to hold a meeting at the Club had been granted. He also indicated that this would be the first totally feminine group allowed to utilize the Club's facilities. Yet the lack of alumnae interest makes Liz hesitate to plan a meeting at the Yale Club. The Yale Club at long last is available but what about the alumnae? Why not call Liz at Sh 5-5504 (home) and talk with her about it? She lives at 360 95th Street, Brooklyn 9, N.Y.

The Boston group are planning a meeting in the spring. Aura Kepler '27 of 122 Everett Street, Arlington 74, is in charge of the planning. Those living in the Boston area will be hearing more details about the date and program.

ALUMNAE FUND

The 1962 Alumnae Fund campaign is well under way due to the able leadership of Priscilla Olson Anderson '47, who this year replaced Charlotte Mulchay Duncan '41 as chairman. Much credit for the good beginning this year and for the successful results of the 1961 Fund goes to the class agents who make the personal written contact with their classmates. This past year 510 alumnae contributed $3,821 which meant that approximately one-third of all graduates and former students contributed toward the School of Nursing. While patting ourselves on the back it is well to remember that 64% of the Medical School alumni contributed to their fund. Nevertheless, the number of alumnae who contribute to this fund has steadily increased each year since 1957 when 248 alumnae gave to the Alumnae Fund. As of Feb. 21, 1962, the Alumnae Fund now totals $3,106. 409 alumnae have contributed thus far for this year, and we are hopeful that we will be ahead of last year when the campaign ends on July 1st.
YN AUTHORS

Jane Foster McConnell '35 was the author of "The Deposed One", an article about kwashiorkor in young children in Uganda, in the August 1961 issue of the American Journal of Nursing. In the July 1961 issue of the American Journal of Nursing were articles by Frances Harris '54, who wrote of her experiences on the U.S.S. Hope in an article entitled "Hope Goes to Indonesia", and Elaine Childs Gowell '53. Elaine, who is an instructor in public health nursing at Dillard University, wrote on "Supervision in Mental Health Rehabilitation".

Three alumnai authors had articles in the November 1961 Nursing Outlook. Maja Anderson '45 wrote "A New Aid to Teaching and Learning", and Reva Rubin '46 was the author of "Basic Maternal Behavior". Gordon Sawatzky '55 was co-author of an article entitled "Making the Most of the Patients' Ego Assets." Reva Rubin also had a second article entitled "Puerperal Change" in the December issue of Nursing Outlook.

Marilyn Furnal '58 was a co-author of the article "Appointment Breaking in a Pediatric Clinic" in the October 1961 issue of The Yale Journal of Biology and Medicine. Her part in this study was based on her research project for her Masters Report as a student at Y.S.N. She is now in Peru, as a consultant in nursing service at a hospital in Lima.

Alice Johnson Gibbons '38, Professor of Nursing at the University of North Carolina School of Nursing, is editor of Unity of Nursing Care: A Report of a Project to Study the Integration of Social Science and Psychiatric Concepts in Nursing. 1960

THREE U.S.P.H.S. GRANTS AWARDED TO YSN

During the summer the School of Nursing received grants from the United States Public Health Service for two new nursing research projects and a three year extension for an on-going study. Continued is the project, A Nursing Research Index Design for Publication of which Virginia Henderson is director. The new research grants, both for one year, are Development of a Tool to Measure Patient Welfare of which Elizabeth S. Sharp '58 is principal investigator and The Effect of Nursing Care on Post-Operative Vomiting with Rhetaugh G. Dumas '61 as principal investigator.

Last year an anonymous alumna expressed criticism of the fact that all the candidates for the Alumnae Association offices came from the New Haven area. It would be wonderful to have regional representation among the Board of Directors and, moreover, New Haven alumnae get tired of being asked to serve in one capacity or another. The Board of Directors, however, is a working committee and its members need to be in close touch with one another. The Nominating Committee members also must work closely together. In the past, representation from outside the New Haven area has been attempted but people had great difficulty in attending meetings regularly. The Finance Committee and our representatives on the Alumni Board are composed largely of alumnae from other areas in Connecticut and nearby states. Class secretaries and class agents for the Alumnae Fund live in all areas of the United States, but their activities can be done by mail. If alumnae have any suggestions or comments, we would appreciate hearing them, but at this point, local representation seems to be the only way to have an effective Board of Directors and Nominating Committee.

A STATEMENT FROM THE FACULTY

In the spring of 1961 the Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service was authorized to establish a consultant group on nursing. This group is to advise on a program to meet the nursing needs of this country. The Y.S.N. faculty decided to submit some of their ideas and suggestions to this group whose report will have such significance to nursing. Because these recommendations represent the thinking of the faculty as a group, we felt that a summary of this statement would be of interest to alumnae.

Six recommendations were made:
1) to critically examine the nurse's role before it is decided how many nurses are needed to improve nursing service,
2) to increase emphasis on studies of the effect of nursing on the patient,
3) to place emphasis on the development of a methodology for clinical experimentation,
4) to develop training and research programs which will produce research and researchers of nursing knowledge,
5) to recruit qualified young men and women into appropriate nursing programs and to counsel them to undertake graduate education early in their nursing careers and
6) to foster patient settings which permit improvements in nursing care to be put into effect.

The faculty feel that a concentrated effort should be made to examine the role of the nurse as it is and as it might be. A number of nursing studies have found that adding more nurses to hospital wards does not measurably improve the welfare of patients, yet we believe that through experimentation, nurses can learn to use themselves more effectively in giving nursing care. In the final analysis, nursing can be improved only through improved nursing practice. Changes in administration of nursing services or in education of nurses can lead to more efficient and effective care of the patient only by facilitating and stimulating improvements in actual nursing practices. We feel that research should begin with the nurse at the bedside and with the patient. However, the history of nursing research has been that most research by nurses has been concerned with administration and educational problems. Only very recently has there been a trend toward studies of the effect of nursing on the patient, and we feel that this trend should be strengthened and encouraged.

How is this to be done? Although there is considerable research experience from many other sciences to draw upon, nursing must develop its own methodology. Research designs and statistical techniques need to be developed which are appropriate to clinical situations in nursing. The profession needs to have not only appropriate research methods but also the people to carry out the research. The practicing nurses who know what the basic problems are do not have the training that is necessary to study them. Yet those who have the necessary research skills are trained in other disciplines with the consequence that their research in the nursing area tends to be peripheral. Ultimately nursing must prepare its own people to devise appropriate research methods and measurements and to carry out studies of these problems.

At Yale as students from baccalaureate basic nursing programs have come into our graduate program, we find that their Graduate Record Exam scores are significantly higher than those students who come from diploma hospital nursing and then baccalaureate programs. Using the Graduate Record Exam scores as an indication of potential intellectual ability, it also would seem that, on the average, the younger nurse is intellectually better qualified for graduate study than the older more experienced nurse. The faculty questions the pattern in nursing education which has been for a student to begin graduate study only when ready to move into a leadership position and notes with concern that the number of students enrolled in masters programs in this country has decreased for two successive years.

Another important area for consideration is the difficulty of introducing newer concepts of nursing into existing service settings. The values and attitudes of the majority of nurse practitioners not only mitigate against change from the status quo but also actively indoctrinate new nurses and students into the prevailing nurse sub-culture. Educational programs alone cannot develop more effective nursing practitioners. It is imperative to have service settings which not only permit but encourage creative thinking and practice by nurses and also to offer students role models of professional caliber.

The sick man lay in a dimension of no Age; his eyes, alone alive, explored The ceiling for an inadvertent crack. No smile, no twitch, not even a reaction Slow as a petal folding on the night Marked him aware that she had drawn the light Of morning through his window.

She was prepared To be the arms and legs he'd lost somewhere In the murk of his tumor-ridden brain; she fed The mouth, no longer capable of threading Syllables to words; and as she turned Her human driftwood, rubbing out the burden Of his bones upon his flesh, she wondered If a log thinks.

You know, she said, on Sunday I bicycled into the country and all Autumn lay heaped and pungent on a wall, A single wall of stone beside the road, Sheltered by a barn, it held its load Of color as if painted there and dried To permanency by the sun. (She guided Fresh sheets under and over as she talked.) I picked some purple asters and a stalk Or two of goldenrod; I'll bring you some Tomorrow.

Her hands were watered wood; numb Suddenly beneath his tears, the only Words he knew.

Outside the window, a lone Red leaf held the sky in its punched-out eyes, A spider thread on the sill its one horizon.
